REFLECTION

"I am praying for them..." John 17: 9
Prayer - the foundation of our Faith and the foundation of Stewardship. Pray in good times and in bad. Prayer is always the first best option in any situation. Pray for friends and family and for those that may not treat you very well. Pray to give praise, to thank and to ask God for help. Also, pray to see what God wants us to do.

PASTORAL COUNCIL COLUMN

A Real Transformation

Sanctifying grace implies a real transformation of the soul. We believe souls are fully cleansed by an infusion of the supernatural life. Paul speaks of us as "a new creation" (2 Cor 5:17), "created after the likeness of God in true righteousness and holiness" (Eph 4:24).

So why is sin so pesky and persistent? Well, for one thing, Satan does not want us to have hope in the power of God. He wants to rob us of our reward, to cause us to stumble and doubt so that we give up all hope of eternal joy. And, of course, we still suffer the effects of Adam's Fall in the sense that we're still subject to temptation to sin. But through sanctification, God removes the guilt from our souls. We may still have a tendency to sin, but God removes our past sins, much like a mother might wash the dirt off of a child who is likely to get dirty again.

Our souls don't become something other than souls when God cleanses them and pours his grace into them; they don't cease to be what they were before. When grace elevates our natures, our intellects are given the new power of faith, something they don't have at the merely natural level. Our wills are given the new powers of hope and charity, things also absent at the merely natural level. We become people with ears to hear, eyes to see, minds that understand, and hearts that love even our enemies (Matt 13:9–16, 5:44,).

So when we "put on Christ," we are not cloaking sinful souls by pretending to be holy. Nor do we become self-righteous, which is just another form of pride. Instead, we become righteous, which is the desire and willingness to convert our own wills to God's holy will, and thereby acquire the ability to live in relationship with Jesus Christ, for which we were created.
